

Chance4Charlie is a fundraising campaign for life-saving Neurosurgery in Barcelona for Charlie, a young woman with Cervical Medullary Syndrome a rare and life-threatening complication of Hypermobile Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome (EDS). Charlie's cervical spine is extremely unstable, her vertebrae partially dislocate, compressing her brainstem when she moves her neck and are at risk of a full dislocation which would be fatal. She needs a fusion of her entire cervical spine to prevent this from happening. The surgery is not available for EDS patients in the UK. Dr. Gilete a skilled Neurosurgeon in Barcelona specializes in the surgery and is regarded as one of the best surgeons for this complication by the international Ehlers-Danlos community. He has concluded that Charlie's instability and brain stem compression is severe and that she needs a cervical fusion urgently. The current estimated cost of surgery and recovery is £60,000.
